HE LOST HIS HAT.

An Amusing Trick Played on a Practical Joker.

A leading business man who lives in one of the progressive cities of Texas enjoys a joke better than a square meal when he is hungry, and recently he played a few jokes on some of the boys of the place, and one evening an entertainment he had occasion to leave his seat for a few moments, when one of the boys in his absence hid his hat. On his return he had quite a time looking for it, and finally he found it under the seat for his hat, and a lady who sat next to him thought he was suffering from the intense heat and offered him a fan, but he shook his head and continued the search till he had it in possession of one of the boys, and now he is laying for the boys to get even, and in case he slips up and soils his suit, if he will leave it at Gaston Bros.' steaming house he can have it put in first-class shape.

Police Court.

The docket in the police court yesterday was made up of nine cases, the fines amounting to $70.

Haas-Bingham.

Yesterday at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Bingham, the parents of the bride, James Haas was married to Miss Bingham. The bride is an estimable young lady, and the groom one of the rising young employees of the Houston and Texas Central road.

An Evening of Pleasure.

One of the most enjoyable events of the season was the social by the Women's Relief Corps at the residence of Mrs. M. A. McLaughlin on Besse street last evening. Festoons of Chinese lanterns swung along the piazzas, and the handsome rooms were ablaze with lights. Music and social games constituted the chief feature of the evening's entertainment. A large number of guests were present and the merry-making continued until the noon of night. The cloudy night abrogated one of the proposed amusements of the evening, croquet by moonlight.

A False Alarm.

Just as the fire had been extinguished on the corner of Seventh and Main Wednesday morning a second alarm was turned on from the hook and ladder carriage went direct from the scene of the first fire down Seventh street, while Protection hose cart went up Main and turned west to Burnett. The consequence of this difference in route was a collision on the corner of Seventh and Burnett streets. One of the horses hitched to the Protection hose cart was seriously and, probably, fatally hurt, but the result was without a scratch.

The Ghosts Walk.

Wednesday night Deputy Sheriff Gunnels had a very interesting experience. The foreman on the first section on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas south of the city reported to the sheriff's office the presence of four suspicious characters who were occupying the supposed-to-be-haunted house south of the city. The deputy sheriff went to the spot, and the four men kept "strutty gun" within easy access, visions of the unholy doings of ghosts would creep over his mind and in the darkness created an uncanny sensation. The parties were not in the house, but it is thought they occupied the house during the day and prowled around the city at night for the purpose of thieving. The sheriff's office will keep a close watch on the place and the four suspicious characters.

A Case of Cruelty to Animals.

An extreme case of cruelty to animals that should be taken cognizance of by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals came under the notice of a GAZETTE reporter yesterday while on Main street. A horse was hitched to one of the hitching posts between Fifth and Sixth streets, which was suffering intensely from a wound on the left fore leg in the muscular part just below the point of the shoulder blade. The flesh was gouged out, either by a fall or by the horse rearing against some obstacle. The wound had been made long enough for proud flesh to accumulate in it and render it excessively painful, and the cut was made more annoying by the flies which flew and teased so thickly as to entirely cover the place. A policeman on the beat made an attempt to ascertain to whom the horse belonged, but was unsuccessful. The matter should be looked into and the offender punished as the law provides.

Used His Gun.

T. C. Jamison, one of Fort Worth's festive citizens, had occasion yesterday to consider the truthfulness of the old adage that misfortunes never come singly. In the morning he was arrested in the vicinity of "the acre" for a misdemeanor, and was brought before Police Judge Kern, where in addition to being fined for committing a misdemeanor, another fine of $10 was imposed for contempt of court. The principal witness against him was Dave Younger, a negro, on whose testimony Jamison was fined. He paid the fine and was released, only to be about a half hour later again in the hands of the law, this time for trying to make a corpse of Younger, the negro, who was killed against him. He met Younger on Fourteenth street, and after some words proceeded to use him for a target, but only succeeded in getting one shot, as Younger's eagerness to shun Jamison's company soon carried him out of range. Jamison was arrested and brought before Justice Reynolds, where at last accounts he was endeavoring to raise the $500 bond fixed by the justice for his release.

The Mail Service.

A clerk of class 2, Tenth division, for drunkenness and consequent failure to take regular run.

Suspensions—A clerk of class 3, First division, one day, for carelessness in handling registered mail, whereby nine registered packages were missed.

A clerk in the Second division, one day, for careless treatment of four registered packages.

A clerk of class 3, Seventh division, two days, for refusal to accept and receipt for registered packages offered to him at his car, and for lack of thoroughness in the discharge of his duties.

THE DELUGE.

THE WESTERN PORTION OF THE STATE OF IOWA INUNDED.

Immense Damage Done to the Railroads.

A Number of Long Bridges Washed Away—Traffic Suspended.

More Than at First Reported.

CHICAGO, ILL., June 25.—Advises received at the headquarters of the Chicago and Northwestern railway this morning indicate that the destruction by a cloud-burst in Iowa yesterday is more disastrous than was supposed. Excess of the damage to the railway reported to headquarters. It appears the deluge covers at least portions of the states of Iowa, O'Brien, Clay, Plymouth, Cherokee, Buena Vista, Woodbury, Leasac, Monon, Crawford, Carroll, Harrison and Shelby, covering a territory three counties in width along the western border of the state and five counties in length. Telegraph lines in this territory are grossly damaged, and it is next to impossible to get accurate information of losses. Several of the general officers of the road left for the scene last night and are making strenuous efforts to penetrate into the devastated regions. Their reports show that the main line of the road, the Northern Iowa division, is demoralized from Linn Grove to Alton, a distance of forty miles. That the Moline branch, from Moline to Chollon, forty-five miles, is in the same condition, and that the Onawa branch, from Onawa to Ida Grove, fifty miles, is also in bad shape. These lines aggregate a length of 135 miles, and are entirely blocked by the carrying away of bridges and washing out of road beds. All traffic this side and beyond the points named is being carried by round-about lines.

On the main line from Linn Grove to Alton the bridge over Waterman creek, 280 feet long, was carried away and ten other bridges, five on each side of Waterman creek, are useless or practically carried away. One bridge 190 feet long, near Pauline, is gone; also two smaller ones at Waterman creek. The track and ties have been carried a quarter of a mile from the road-bed. It has been impossible to learn much in regard to the damage on the Moline branch. The same conditions obtained on the line between Ida Grove and Onawa. It is reported that the bridge over Maple river has been badly washed out. This region, where the flood was most severe, is traversed by numerous branches, not only of the Northwestern, but also of the Illinois Central and Milwaukee and St. Paul and the main line of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha roads. No reports of damage to their lines have been received except from the Illinois Central, whose line from Cherokee to Onawa, which runs along the Sioux river, is blocked, and officials who left here last night have not been able to get across the swollen river to Cherokee, which is on the west side of the river. It will take several days to put the line in condition for the resumption of traffic.

In Cherokee County.

WATERLOO, IOWA, June 25.—Cherokee and the county adjacent, which Tuesday night's storm devastated, is entirely cut off from telegraphic communication. Wires are working only to Aurelia, the first station east of Cherokee, and by courier from the desolated city.

In the Sioux City Division.

CHICAGO, ILL., June 25.—The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road suffered severe washouts on its Sioux City division between Sioux City and Mantella, and traffic is delayed. On the L. & N. division some small washouts occurred, but not enough to prevent running of trains. Telegraph wires are down on the Sioux City division and the actual damage is unknown.

PUBLIC MEETING.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE CALLS IT FOR SATURDAY.

It Will Discuss the Alien Land Law. Resolutions Adopted by the Directors Yesterday.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce held an important called meeting yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, which did not adjourn till after 6 o'clock. The question under consideration was the alien land law.

Vice-President J. J. Roche presided.

The nine directors present discussed the matter fully and then adopted the following:

Whereas, the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, believing that the alien land bill, recently enacted by the legislature of the state of Texas, if left unchanged upon the statute books, will operate to the serious injury of all classes of citizens, and will result in closing all land titles wherein corporations who may have alien stockholders are interested as owners, therefore be it

Resolved, that we request the governor of the state of Texas when making his call for an extra session of the legislature to specify in such call the advisability of amending the said alien land law.

It was then by a unanimous vote decided to call a public meeting Saturday night, and the following was formulated:

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OF FORT WORTH, TEX., June 25, 1891.

In view of the great interest taken by the business men and property owners of this city in the alien land law, passed at the last session of the legislature, and at the request of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, I hereby call an open meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, to be held at the hall of the chamber at 8 p. m., Saturday, June 27, for the purpose of discussing the objectionable features of the alien land law, and such other matters as shall be properly presented before said meeting; and also to take such action thereon as may be deemed wise and practicable.

All trade, commercial and industrial associations, and also every interested citizen of Fort Worth are cordially invited to attend said meeting and are earnestly urged to be present and participate in the proceedings of the meeting.

First President, James J. Roche.

Attest: F. M. Clarke, Secretary.

A large meeting, in view of the importance of the subject, is expected.
